PRECISION PROJECTS

A Catalog of Completed Work

Hardscape and stone masonry, outdoor living, water features, landscape, signs and shoreline work across Hot Springs Village and Central Arkansas, with the natural stone that built it.

EDITION 2026

STONE & LANDSCAPE WORK SINCE 2003

MATERIALS BY ROCKHOUSE STONE

Stone and landscape work since 2003

This catalog collects finished work from our family of companies on Highway 7 in Hot Springs Village. Bennett Brothers Stone of Hot Springs has quarried, cut and set natural stone in Central Arkansas since 2003; Rockhouse Stone carries that stone in its yard and online store; and since 2020 Village Precision Pros has designed and built the landscapes, hardscapes, outdoor living spaces and shoreline work that put it to use.

Everything in these pages was built by our crews from stone stocked at Rockhouse Stone. Each photo carries a short caption naming what was built and the stone it was built with, so you can point at a wall, a walk or a fireplace and ask for the same. The Materials Guide at the back lists every natural-stone product in the store with its current price.

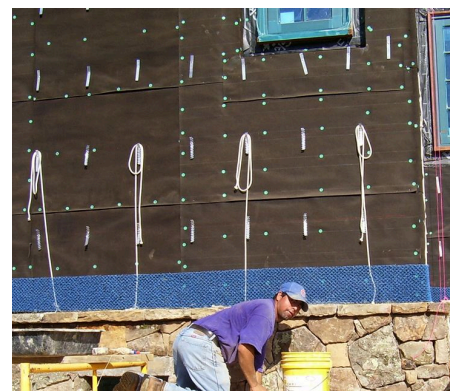

The list below is the one our first ads carried twenty years ago. It has grown, but it has not changed.

How this catalog is organized

Section 01 opens with eight signature projects. Sections 02 through 09 follow our service menu, each opening with its strongest photograph and then related work in grids. Section 10 collects recent work by our Village Precision Pros crews. Every photo carries a one-line caption: what was built and the stone used.

Section 11 is the Materials Guide: all 174 products carried by Rockhouse Stone, natural stone first and then Fusion Turf, with the names, SKUs and prices you will find at rockhousestone.com.

The index at the back lists projects, features and materials by page.

Anthony Chapel at Garvan Woodland Gardens

Hot Springs, Arkansas

Anthony Chapel at Garvan Woodland Gardens

Beneath a soaring timber-and-glass nave, the floor is Ouachita flagstone laid in a random pattern, edged by dry-stack ledge-stone seat walls that step down the hillside. Cut-slab treads with copper handrails carry the aisle to the altar, and the same stone runs outside as walks, planted walls and the boulder garden along the stream.

The chapel from the approach — flagstone walk, dry-stack seat walls and the stone base of the nave

Cut-slab steps with copper rail — flagstone landing

Garden steps — solid sandstone slabs

Boulder garden — moss rock along the stream

Entry sign wall — dry-stack ledge stone with a planted cap

WHERE	Garvan Woodland Gardens, Hot Springs, Arkansas
SCOPE	Chapel floors and steps · seat walls · entry sign wall · road walls and bridge facing · pavilion walls · stream boulder garden
STONE	Ouachita flagstone, ledge stone, sandstone slabs and moss-rock boulders, all supplied through Rockhouse Stone
WHY IT MATTERS	Public-scale stonework that still reads as hand-laid up close. It is the standard we bring to a back yard.

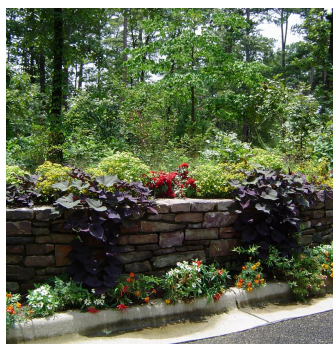

- OUACHITA FLAGSTONE
- DRY-STACK LEDGE
- SANDSTONE SLAB TREADS
- MOSS-ROCK BOULDERS

Garvan Woodland Gardens, continued

Beyond the chapel, the same stone shapes the roads and gardens: a curved road wall at the bridge, planted retaining walls, the walk to the chapel doors and the pavilion in the woods.

Road wall at the bridge — curved dry-stack ledge stone with a cut cap

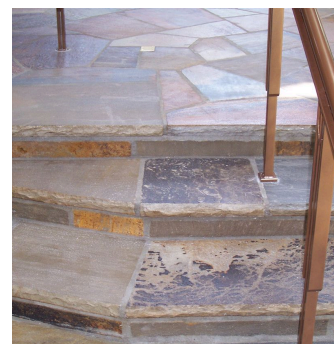

Planted wall — ledge stone with coleus and annuals

Walk to the chapel — random flagstone, tight joints

Pavilion — ledge-stone walls under the timber roof

Aisle steps — slab treads, close

Hot Springs Village Entrance Monument

HOT SPRINGS VILLAGE, ARKANSAS

The stone that greets everyone who drives into the Village: a stepped monument wall of mosaic Ouachita stone in browns, grays and rust, laid tight with no visible mortar face, carrying the metal letters over a bed of low plantings and lawn. Built to be read at road speed and to look right up close.

In its setting — the monument, plantings and lawn from the road

The letters — metal on mosaic stone, close

From the entrance drive — the sign at the tree line

WHERE	Main entrance, Hot Springs Village, Arkansas
SCOPE	Stepped monument wall · metal lettering · plantings and lawn
STONE	Mosaic Ouachita stone in browns, grays and rust

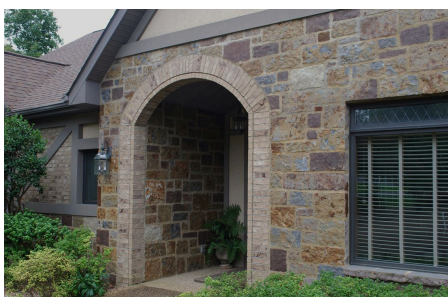

SIGNATURE PROJECT · 03

Lakeside Homes, Hot Springs Village

LAKE LOTS, HOT SPRINGS VILLAGE

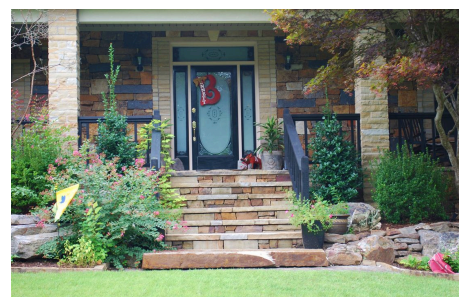

A group of lake homes where stone does the work from the front door to the water: mosaic-stone walls and arched entries, cut-stone bed edging under lantern pillars, flagstone walks and steps set among boulders, a stacked-stone waterfall at the pool, a dry creek that carries the storm water, and a fire pit on the point.

Arched entry — mosaic stone with a cut-stone arch

Ledge-stone lodge — porch columns and boulder beds

Entry steps — stacked ledge stone with a slab tread

Lakeside Homes, continued

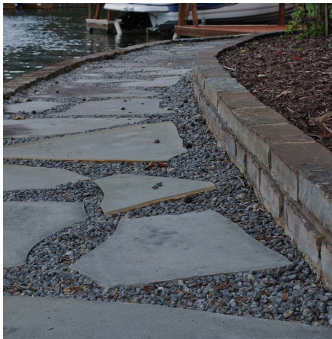

Flagstone steps and path — set among boulders and creek rock, with low-voltage lanterns

Stacked-stone waterfall — spilling into the pool

Dry creek bed — boulders and creek rock carry the runoff

Path along the lake — flagstone with gravel joints

Front steps — ledge stone and slab treads

WHERE	Lake lots in Hot Springs Village, Arkansas
SCOPE	Entries and veneer · bed edging and lantern pillars · flagstone walks and steps · pool waterfall · dry creek drainage · lakeside path and fire pit
STONE	Mosaic and chopped Ouachita stone, brown flagstone, creek rock, moss-rock boulders
NOTE	Several properties on the same shoreline, built over several seasons.

Poolside Pavilion

CENTRAL ARKANSAS

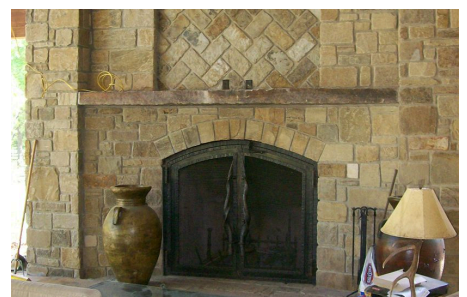

An outdoor room under a timber roof: a cut-limestone fireplace with herringbone panels, an outdoor kitchen on a stone island, a raised spa with a stone spillway and a grotto waterfall into the pool, all on a flagstone floor.

Raised spa — stepped stone base with spillover

Outdoor kitchen island — limestone base, slab top

The fireplace — herringbone firebox panels

Poolside Pavilion, continued

Grotto waterfall — boulders and ledge stone spilling into the pool

Winter view — pool and grotto from the lawn

Under the roof — fireplace and kitchen island

The spa — stone steps up to the rim

The floor — brown Ouachita flagstone

WHERE	Private residence, Central Arkansas

Tuscan Villa

CENTRAL ARKANSAS · PHOTOGRAPHED DURING CONSTRUCTION

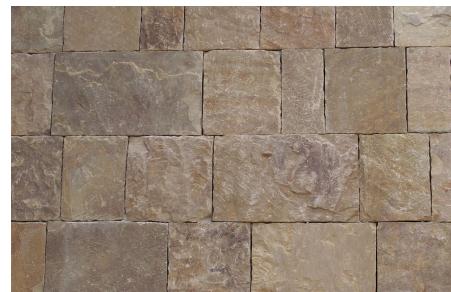

A villa complex under tile roofs, faced in mosaic chopped stone with cut-limestone arches, quoins and stair walls. Photographed while our masons were still on the scaffolds, which is why the trucks are in the drive.

Finished wing — arched entry and stone stair walls

The complex — from the entrance drive

Cut limestone block — close

WHERE

Private estate, Central Arkansas

SCOPE

Full stone veneer on the main house, wings and outbuildings · arched loggias · quoins · stair walls and terraces

STONE

Mosaic chopped Ouachita stone with cut-limestone arches and quoins

Retaining Walls & Terraces

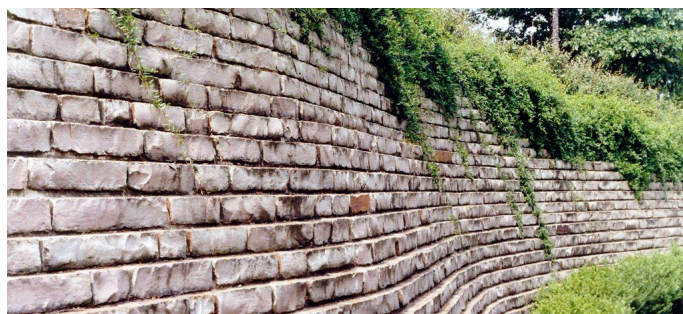

Hot Springs Village is built on hillsides. Terraced dry-stack walls, boulder walls and cut-limestone walls turn a slope into usable ground, and give plantings, steps and patios a place to land.

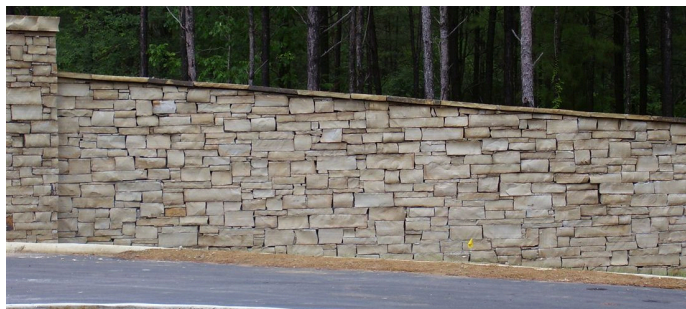

Curved cut-limestone wall — along a drive, with a cut cap

Dry-stack limestone — with entry columns

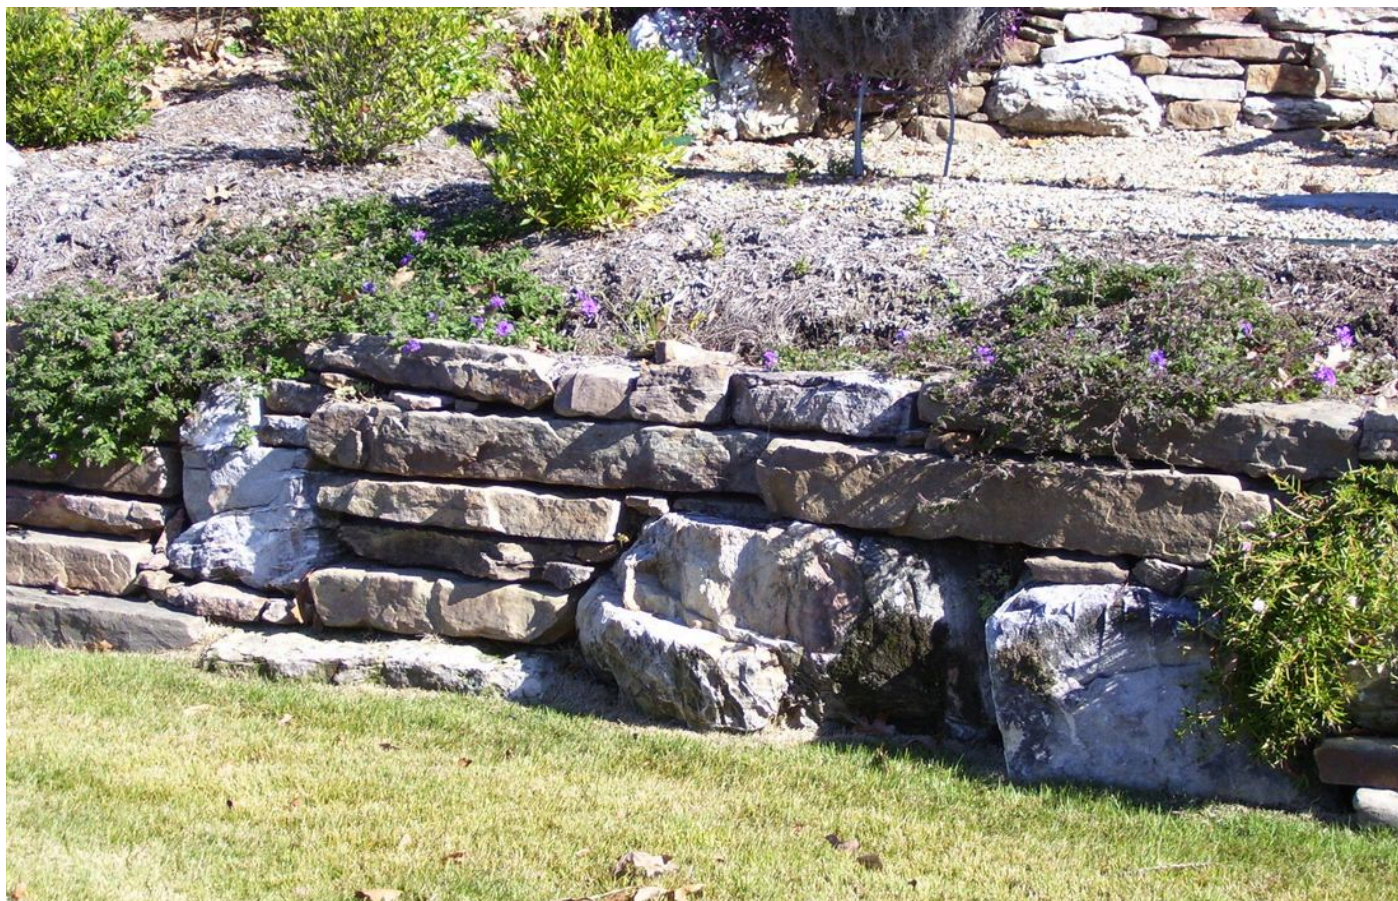

Terraced ashlar walls — with plantings on every tier

Ashlar limestone — along a road

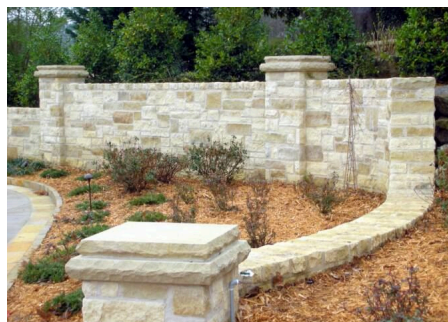

Ledge-stone terraces — with mums and slab steps

Lakeside terraces — dry-stack sandstone and boulders

Stacked slab walls — at a farmhouse

Limestone wall and pillars — dry-stack, cut cap

Stacked wall — over creek rock

Low garden wall — dry-stack sandstone

New chopped-stone wall — before the backfill

Chopped stone — the same wall from the road

Entries, Columns & Gates

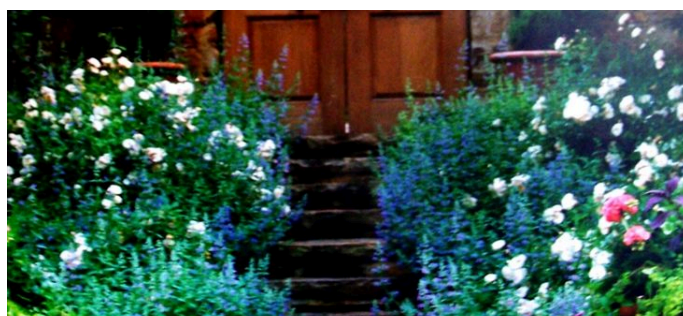

Stone columns carry the gate, the lantern and the house number. We build them in chopped stone, cut limestone and fieldstone, with iron between them.

Entry columns and iron gate — with a planted island

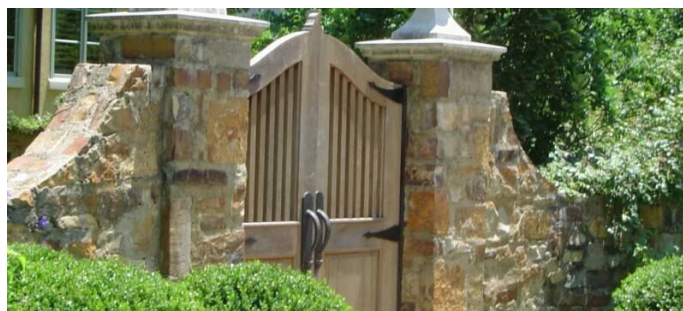

Limestone gate columns — iron gate

Garden gate — arched wood door in a stone wall

Column 12 — copper lantern and a planted island

Gate pillars — with a wood gate

Island bed — lantern column, cut-stone edging

Ledge-stone house — iron gate

Dry-stack wall corner — lantern post

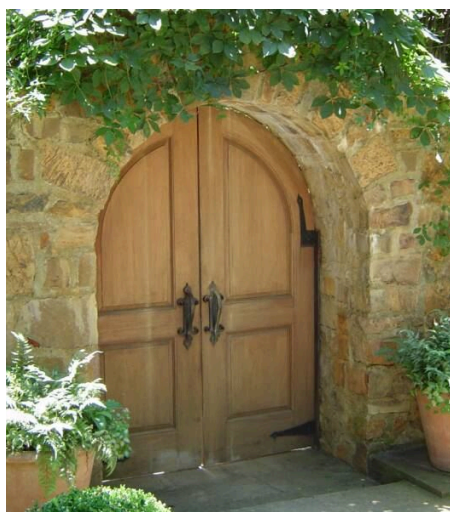

Fieldstone wall — column and iron fence

Stone pillars — flagstone walk

Entry — arched door, stone pillars

Stone arch — arched wood doors

Arched entry — with lantern

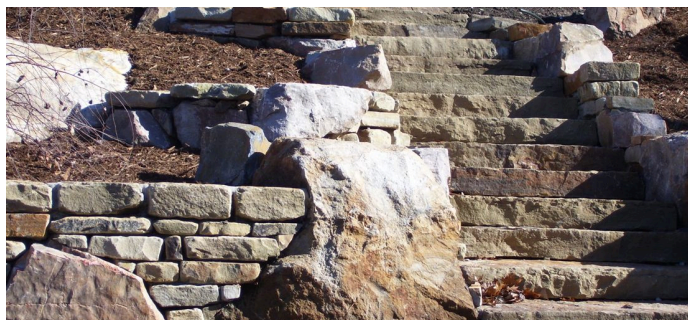

Entry column — lantern and low wall

Steps & Walkways

Slab treads, boulder stairs, flagstone paths and paver walks. The stone is chosen to match the walls it meets.

Slab steps — through a garden

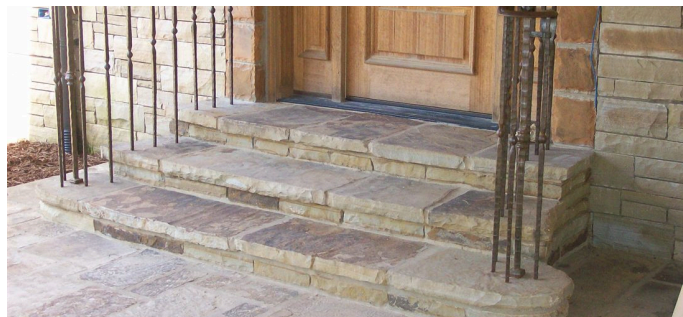

Boulder stair — on a lakeside slope

Curved limestone steps — bluestone walk

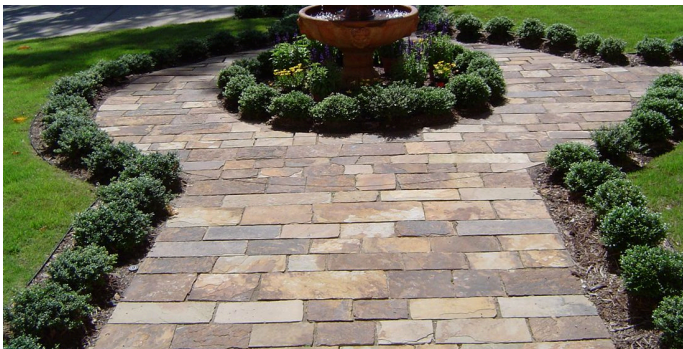

Slab steps — through a planted slope

Entry steps — ledge stone, iron rail

Flagstone porch — and steps

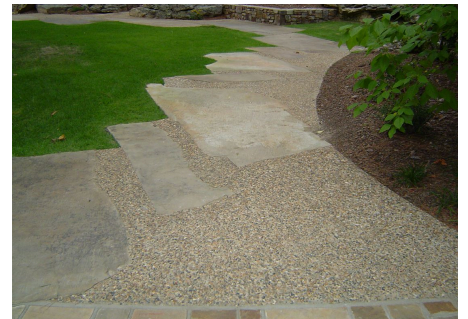

Flagstone porch — random pattern

Entry steps — with landscaping

Front steps — and beds

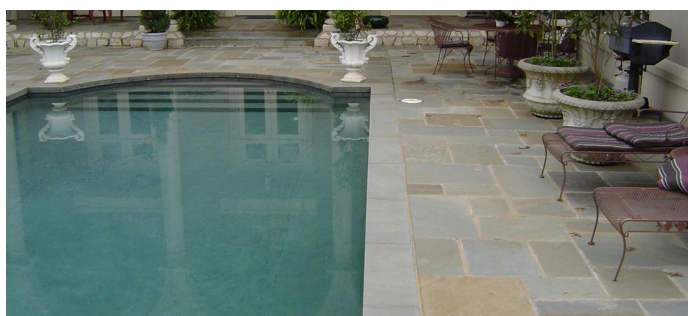

Exposed-aggregate walk — with flagstone bands

Patios & Pavers

Flagstone, bluestone and tumbled travertine. A patio is the floor of an outdoor room; we set it to drain, to stay level and to look like it grew there.

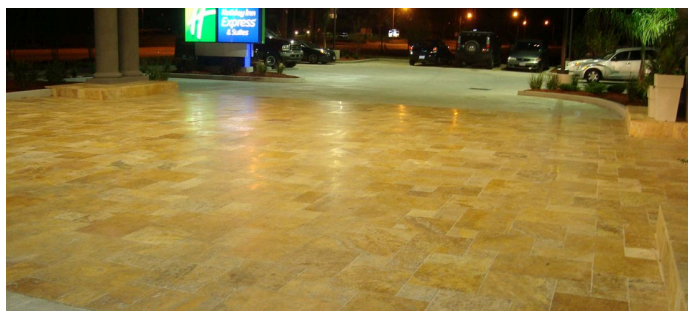

Flagstone patio — stone planters and outdoor kitchen

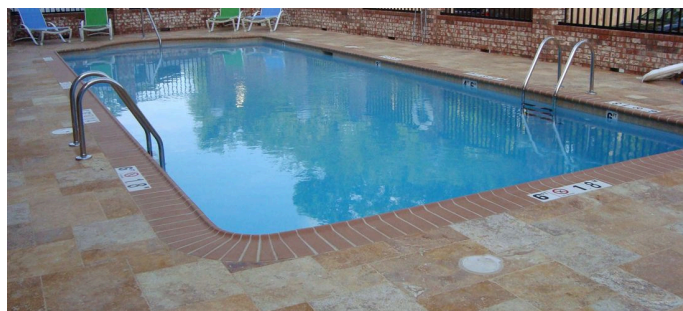

Pool deck — bluestone with urns

Flagstone patio — at the glass doors

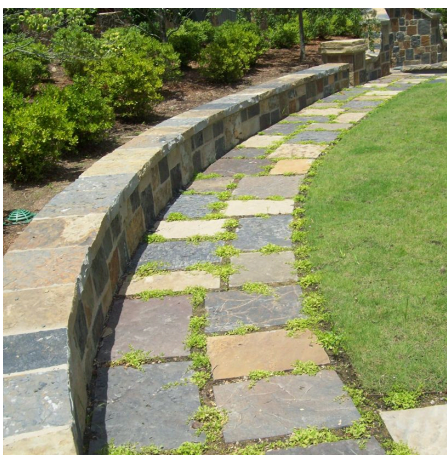

Tumbled gold travertine — hotel breezeway at night

Travertine pool deck — French pattern

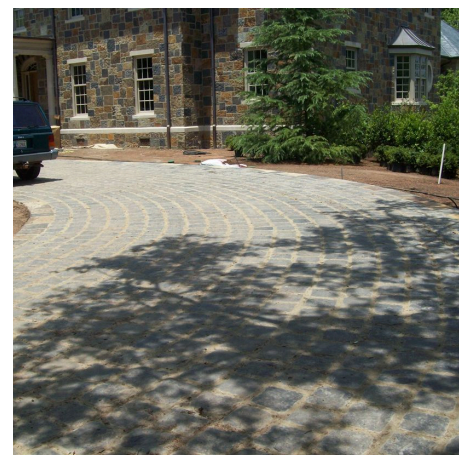

Garden courtyard — random-rectangle paving with grass joints, curved seat wall

Fountain wall — cut limestone

Courtyard — paver drive and stone walls

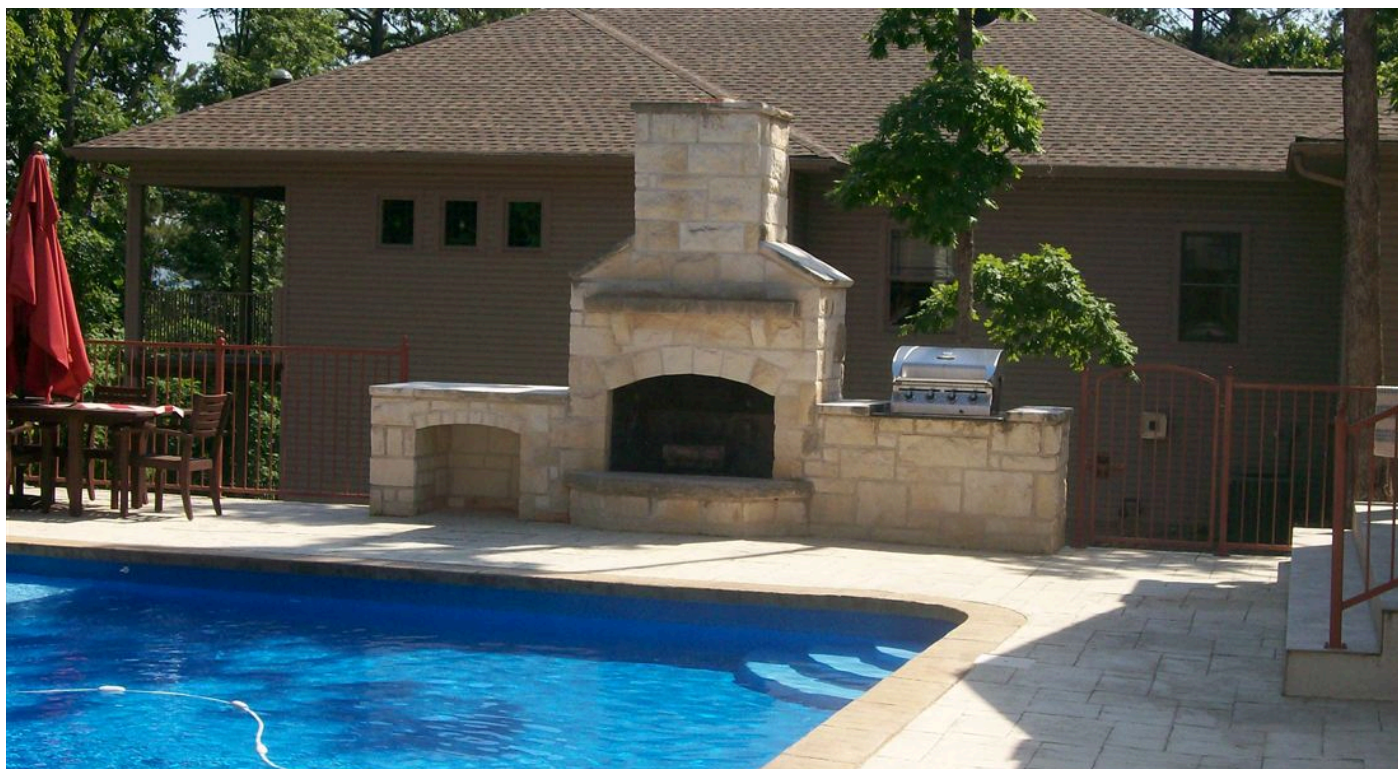

The house — stone and stucco with urn

Arched door — in mosaic stone

Outdoor Fireplaces

A stone fireplace anchors a patio the way a hearth anchors a room. We build them in cut limestone, chopped Ouachita blends and ledge stone, with grills, bars and fire pits to match.

Fireplace and grill — cut limestone, beside the pool

The same fireplace — from the front, grill and bar

Outdoor fireplace — with pool columns

Outdoor fireplace — on a flagstone patio

Ledge-stone fireplace — under the timber roof

Arched covered patio — outdoor kitchen and bar, cut limestone

Outdoor fireplace — by the pool

Outdoor fireplace — under a pergola

Fireplace — in a timber pavilion

The chimney — from the porch

Arched fireplace — with ironwork

Fire Pits

Round or square, flush or raised, with a cooking grate or a screen dome.

Fire pit on the water — chopped stone, screen dome

Flagstone fire pit — with cooking grate

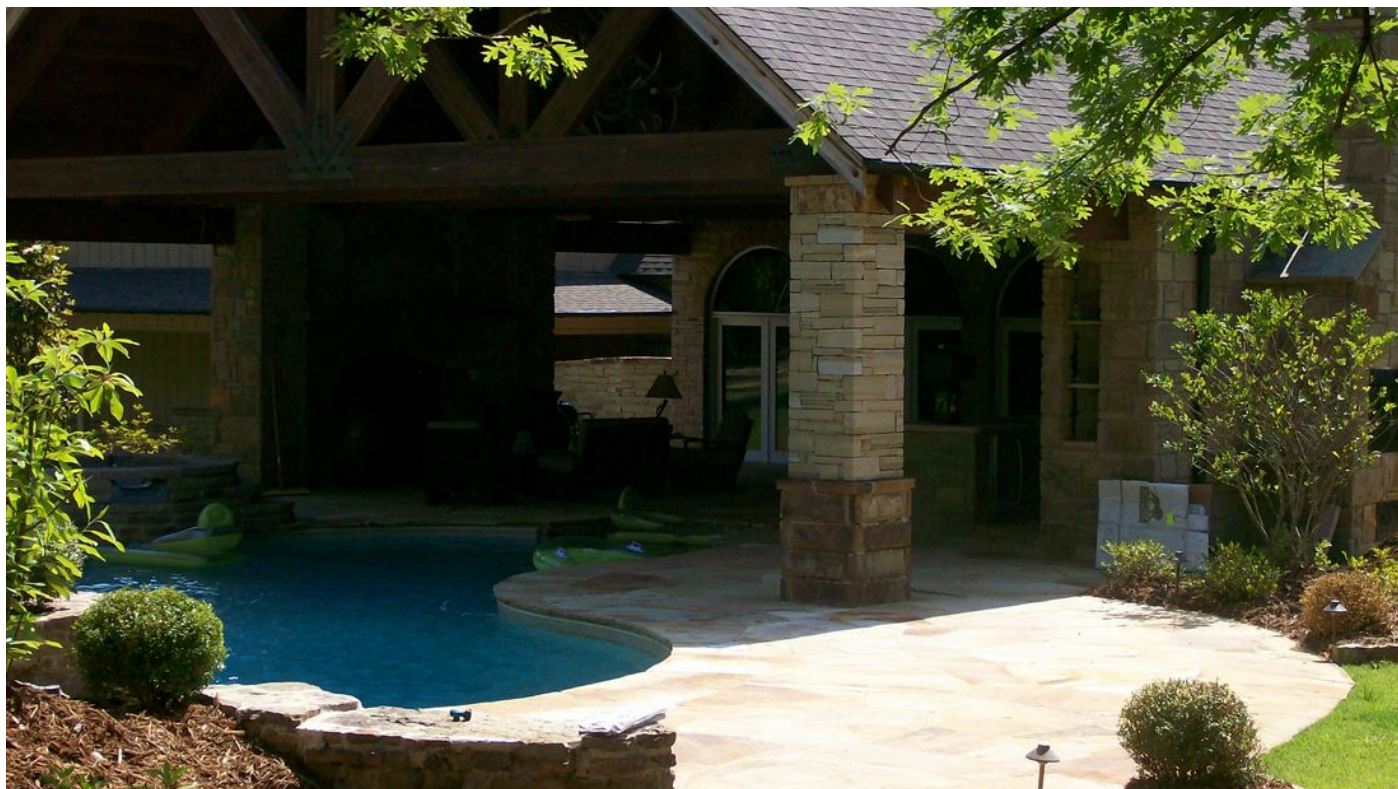

Round fire pit — on a flagstone patio

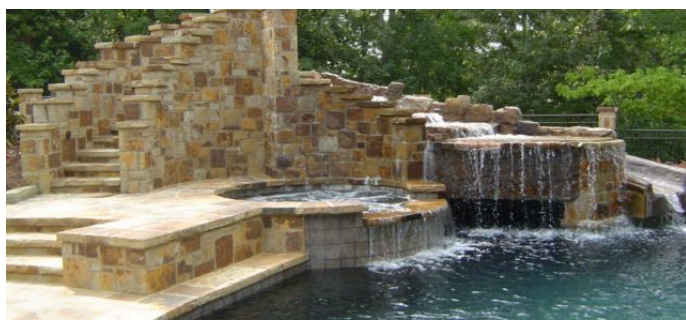

Stone fire pit — on flagstone

Pools & Spas

Stone coping, raised spas, grottos and gazebos. The pool contractor sets the shell; we build everything you touch.

Pool, waterfall and timber pavilion

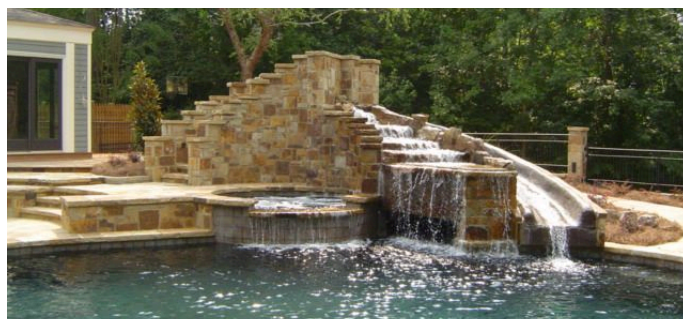

Copper-domed gazebo — stone walls and grotto

Pool — flagstone coping

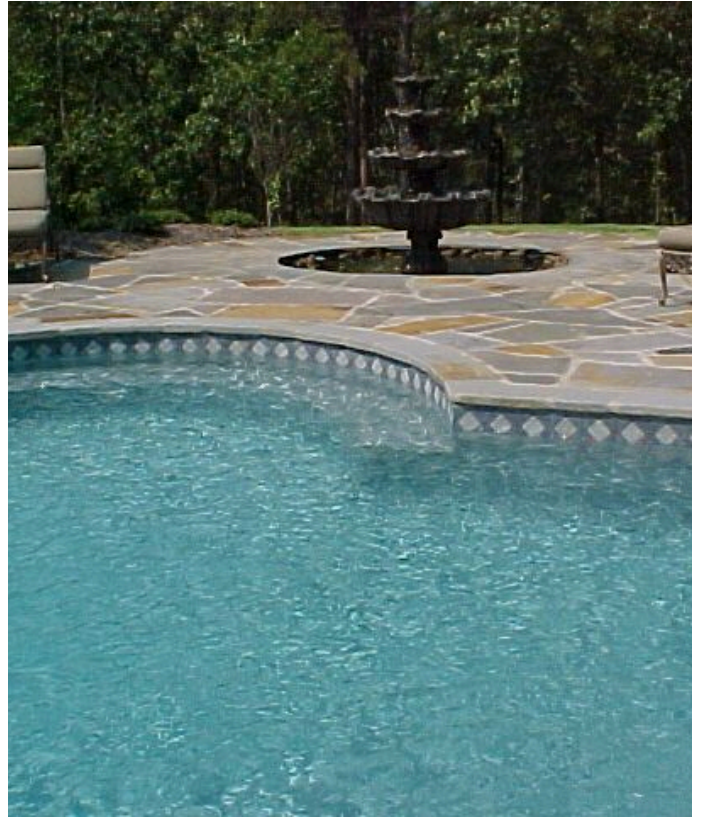

Raised spa — spillover into the pool

Grotto waterfall — stacked stone

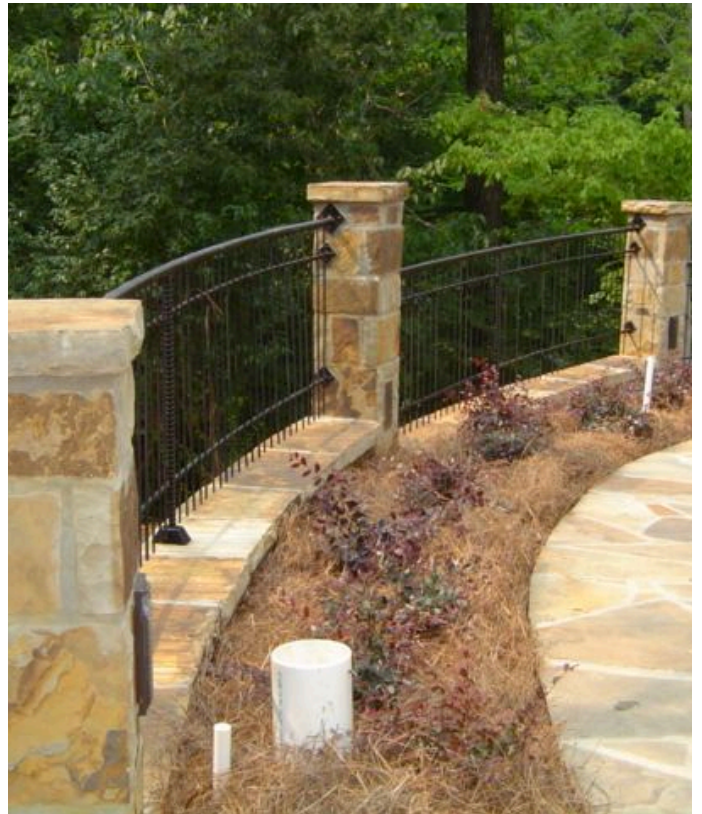

Pool — flagstone deck and raised spa

Pool deck — flagstone

Stone columns — iron fence at the pool

Stone Furniture & Specialty Pieces

Slab tables, benches and one-of-a-kind pieces cut from single stones.

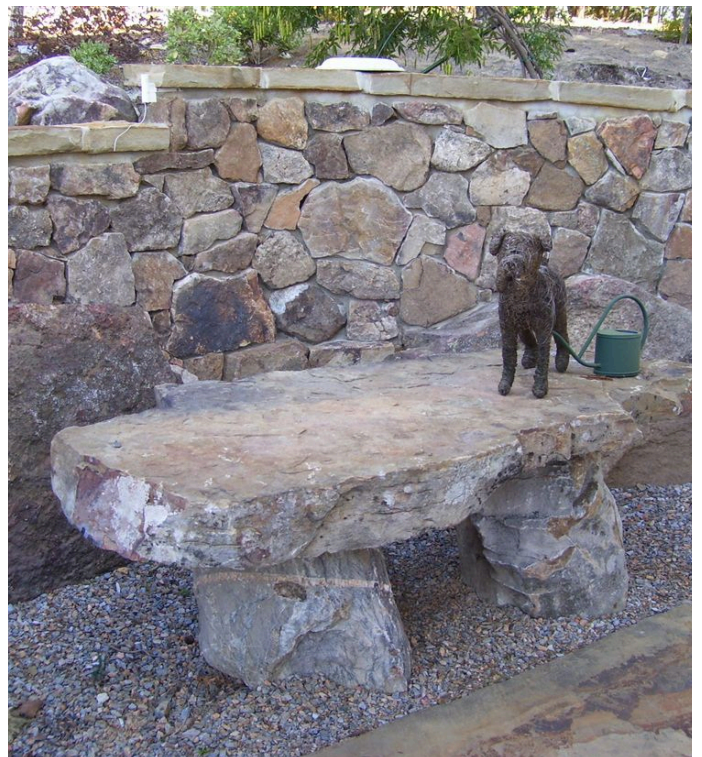

Slab table — on a flagstone patio

Slab table — on a stone pedestal

Slab table — indoors

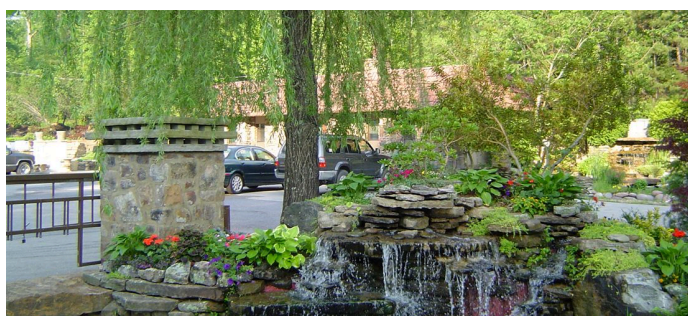

Stone bench — with a dog

Backyard Waterfalls

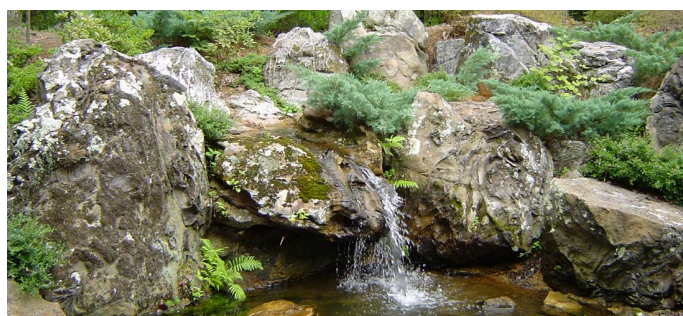

Boulder falls, ponds and slab bridges built to sound right and to hold water. The stone is set on a liner over a shaped bed; the plants finish it.

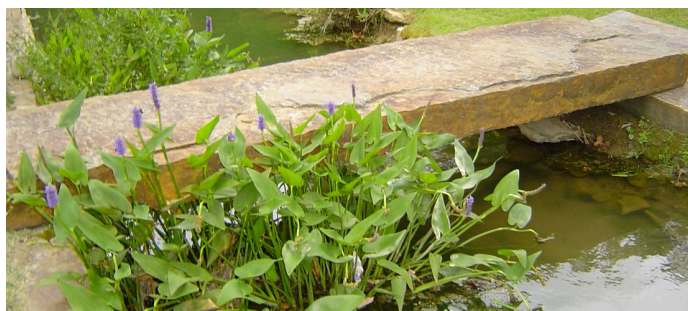

Backyard waterfall and pond — stone slab bridge, flagstone edge

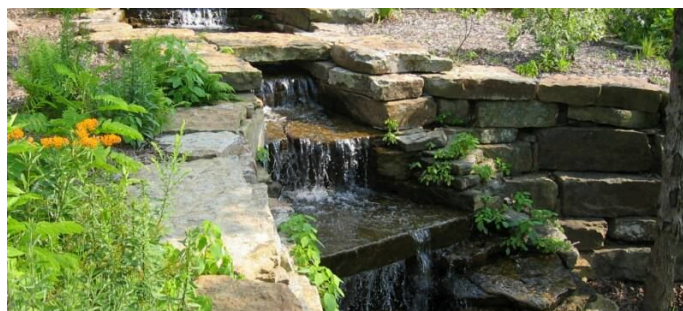

Waterfall into a pond — at a stone entry column

Entry features for subdivisions and commercial sites: waterfall walls, channels with slab bridges and plantings that read from the road.

Entry waterfall wall — cut stone, planted

Water channel — with slab bridges

The channel — with flowers

Subdivision entry falls — with plantings

Boulder waterfall — at a commercial entrance

Planted Beds & Islands

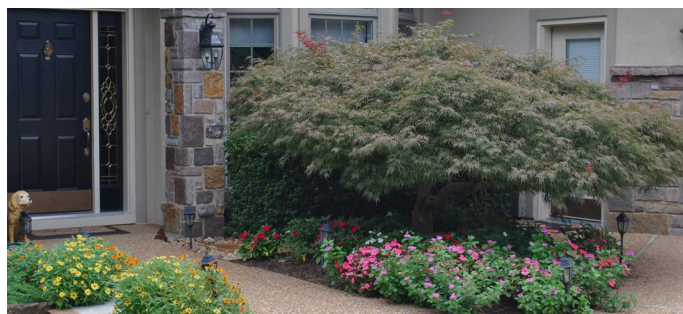

Cut-stone bed edging, lantern pillars, island beds and foundation plantings that carry the stone of the house out into the yard.

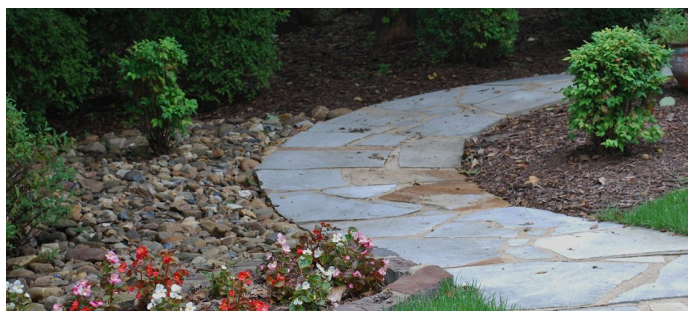

Mosaic-stone entry — Japanese maples and clipped beds

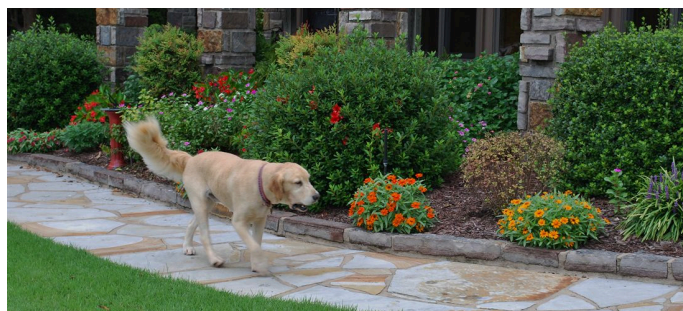

Island bed — cut-stone edging, lantern pillar

Entry planting — Japanese maple and annuals

Curved flagstone walk — between mulched beds

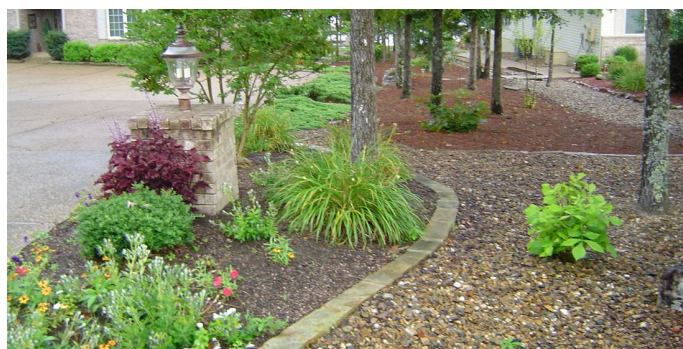

Flagstone walk — stone-edged perennial beds

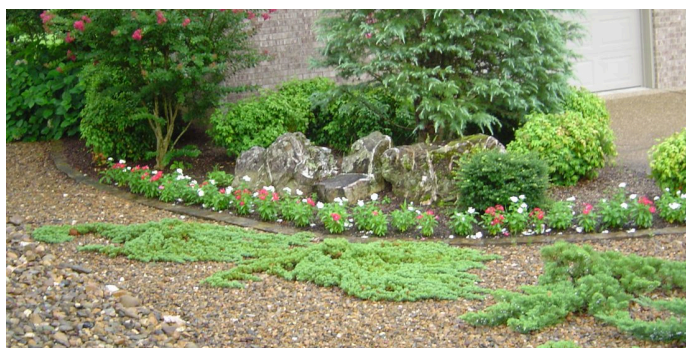

Island bed on the lake — stone edging, lantern column

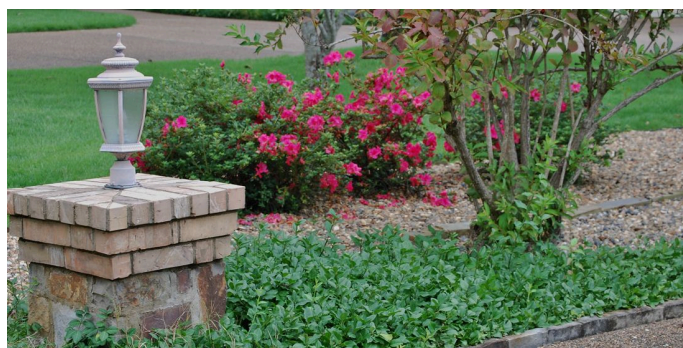

Stone-column house — layered foundation beds

Pine-straw beds — junipers and a gravel walk

Boulder island bed

Lantern pillar — with azaleas

Dry Creek Beds & Drainage

Storm water on a hillside lot needs somewhere to go. A dry creek of boulders and creek rock moves it, looks like it belongs and never needs mowing.

Dry creek bed — boulders and creek rock

The creek — from the lawn

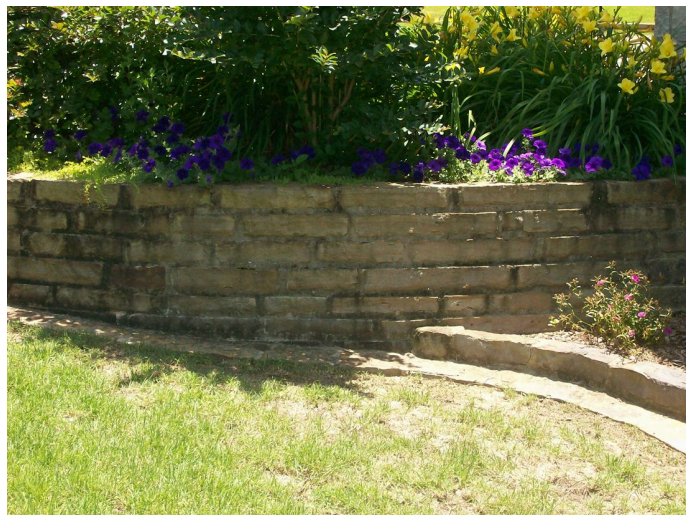

Dry creek — on a lakeside slope

Drain inlet — set flush in a flagstone terrace

Island bed — stone edging

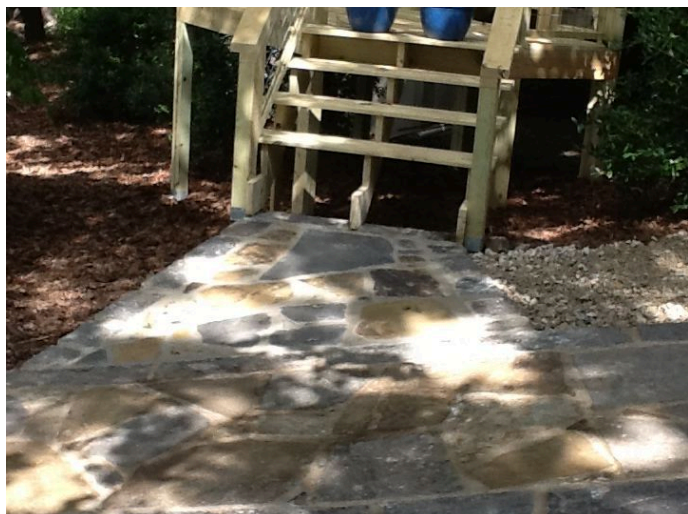

Bed and block wall — stone edging

Flagstone path — through mulch beds

Lakeside beds — mulch and stone

Flagstone path — to the deck stairs

Stone bed — at the flagpole

Seawalls & Riprap

Stone seawalls, riprap and terraced walls that hold a lake bank through high water and wakes. This is a major line of work for Village Precision Pros today.

Lakeside dry-stack wall — at the water
